MEET KRISTEN

As a principal in the audit department, Kristen helps commercial entities handle complex accounting and business issues. She has a solid understanding of the audit process and strives to cultivate strong relationships with her clients.

Clients and colleagues alike rely on Kristen's ability to knowledge share. At the firm, she was an integral part of a new software rollout, is involved with training team members, and is actively involved with staff meetings and department scheduling. When it comes to relationship development, one of the key elements is listening – and for Kristen this is an innate skill. Clients value her as an active listener to their needs and she collaborates with them to creatively problem solve.

BACKGROUND

Kristen joined Edelstein & Company in 2018. Prior to joining Edelstein, Kristen worked for seven years at a small public accounting firm. At Edelstein, she works with clients in a variety of industries, including financial services, manufacturing, and service companies.

HOW KRISTEN CAN HELP

- Prepare audit and review of financial statements
- Provide sound business advice
- Assist clients with implementation of new accounting standards and pronouncements
- Keep clients up to date with accounting procedures
- Inventory management

OUTSIDE THE OFFICE

Kristin loves to travel and explore new cities and countries. She also enjoys a good day at the beach and trying out new restaurants.
