MEET BOB

Bob has been with Edelstein since he started as an intern in 2009 and is now a partner in the firm's assurance and advisory team. Bob's primary clients include manufacturing, technology, life sciences, and investment companies. In addition, Bob leads the firm's broker-dealer audits, and surprise custody exams. Bob also oversees the U.S. audits of large multinational corporations conducted under International Standards on Auditing.

BACKGROUND

Earlier in his career, Bob had a variety of internships as an undergraduate and, after graduation, held positions at various CPA firms. Bob joined Edelstein & Company as an associate in 2009 working in tax, health care, an audit. Bob also has a passion for I.T. and prior to working as an accounting, was a P.C. specialist at Suffolk University helping to support staff and student P.C. issues, while building and configuring Linux machines on a contract basis.

Outside of auditing, Bob enjoys working with his clients on financial analysis, cost accounting, and finding ways to better integrate the accounting department into other aspects of their operations.

HOW BOB CAN HELP
